PREFACE

This is the second descriptive catalogue of manuscripts compiled by me, the first being that of Raj Manuscripts of Kameshwara Singh Sanskrit University, Darbhanga, published in 1969. The present catalogue follows, as it were, the Darbhanga Catalogue in its foot-steps. All necessary bibliographical data including the extract of passages from the beginning and end of each work, colophon, conditions, etc. were first collected in the forms specially got printed for this purpose and then these forms were arranged subject-wise in alphabetical order. We have in this collection, altogether, over 1740 manuscripts including Prakrit, Hindi and a small number of manuscripts in Kangari, Malayalam, Urdu and Persian.

The Vishveshvaranand Vedic Research Institute has brought out in 1959 a catalogue of manuscripts in two parts belonging, mostly, to Lal Chand Library, located at this centre. The present catalogue is, in a way, only a supplement to it. In this collection there are some good manuscripts, though not rare, and some transcripts and micro-films of manuscripts got from other Libraries.

The Research Wing of our Institute collected the data about each manuscript in the printed sheets at the initial stage under the supervision of Shri K.V. Sarma, Reader, and then under the supervision of Shri Munishwar Deo, Lecturer, who also got each sheet checked for its accuracy as the data were filled therein. The proofs were corrected by the research staff, again under the supervision of Shri Munishwar Deo. Shri Duni Chand Sharma, Assistant Curator, who is at present in-charge of the manuscript collection, also actively participated in this work.

This catalogue compiled by me comes out on the eve of conclusion of my tenure of office with the Panjab University. I will be leaving Hoshiarpur with happy memories of my association with this Institute and particularly with some of fine scholars, devoted teachers and sincere workers of this Centre of Panjab University. If I have been able to do any good work for this Institute, I must mention here, that it is entirely due to their willing co-operation extended to me in all activities of the Institute. I, therefore, feel it appropriate to dedicate this work to my present colleagues as a mark of my appreciation of their devotion to duty and their efforts for furtherance of Sanskrit learning. I also record my sincere appreciation of fine work done by the V.V.R.I. Press in printing this catalogue.
